PUSHING THE BOUNDARIES OF IMAGINATION with INNOVATIVE DESIGN

NOVEL DESIGN

The ~31storey building at Deutsche Bank Place introduces an entirely new kind of office tower to Sydney. Its form is driven by the changing requirements of the modern office and its design has a novel diagram which fulfils the need for maximum flexibility and the best possible views of the harbour from the office floors.

PROGRESSIVE DESIGN

The HSBC in Hong Kong, created 32 years ago, is an example of radical flexibility - an office tower, reinvented in humanistic as well as organizational and urban terms, with the ability to reconfigure itself to suit the changing needs of the bank.

VERNACULAR AND GLOBAL

Avoiding the generic feel of the universal shopping mall, the scheme for the transformed Abu Dhabi historic Central Market fuses the local vernacular with global aspirations, making the reinterpretation of the traditional market place a new civic heart for Abu Dhabi.

EXPRESSION OF VALUES

The new Apple Campus in California aims to create an inspirational place to work that feels unlike any other; an architecture that encourages collaboration, stimulates creativity and, like Apple's products, is focused on the experience for users. The project will bring 12,000 employees together within a single building, set in the heart of a natural Californian landscape. The technically advanced glass enclosure is a celebration of the unique Californian light and landscape, and the environmental strategy works in harmony with the climate - for the majority of the year, the building can be naturally ventilated.

AUDACIOUS DESIGN

Designed in close collaboration with structural engineers, the Millau viaduct in the south of France illustrates how the architect can play an integral role in the design of bridges, and expresses a fascination with the relationship between function, technology and aesthetics in a graceful structural form.

CULTURE INSPIRED DESIGN

Influenced by ancient planning principles, the national pavilion for the United Arab Emirates at the Milan Expo conveys the texture of sand dunes, evokes the traditional desert city streets, and its contemporary reinterpretation in the Masdar masterplan.

THE STERLING

Made for globetrotting connoisseurs, The Sterling is close to the best that Dubai has to offer. It is less than 7 kilometres away from the Dubai International Financial Centre (DIFC), 11 kilometres away from the Trade Centre, 10 minutes away from the upcoming Dubai Design District and just a couple of minutes away from The Dubai Mall.

It comprises two towers – The East House and The West House – and offers fantastic views of Burj Khalifa, Mohammed Bin Rashid City and The Creek. Take your pick from a wide array of elegant penthouses, bedroom residences and exclusive townhouses.

THE OPUS BY ZAHA HADID

The Opus by Zaha Hadid is a true work of art. Designed completely by starchitect Dame Zaha Hadid. From the incredible exterior, marked vividly by an organic void, to every single detail of the interior, The Opus is a fantastic embodiment of Hadid's signature style. The combined use building is a new and spectacular Dubai landmark, iconic for its legendary design, stunning engineering achievement and prime location.

The Four Seasons in Montreal is a special space, where every detail has been carefully considered, from guest rooms and public areas decorated with original artworks and vintage photographs, to rooms and suites that feature clean lines, chic furnishings and a neutral color palette.

CHESS HOTEL

At the Chess Hotel in Paris, Gilles & Boissier reinvent classical French baroque and renaissance design styles for the 21st century, with a distinct and original color scheme, inspired furniture design, outstanding ornamental details, and the characteristic checkerboard design that reflects the name of the hotel.

MANDARIN ORIENTAL

A modern paradise-like resort set among olive groves, reflecting pools, and a profusion of roses, the Mandarin Oriental hotel in Marrakech combines the Moroccan city's picturesque charm with a crisp cosmopolitan look, handwoven rugs, latticework accents, and walls stippled in tadelakt plasterwork.

BACCARAT HOTEL

Gilles & Boissier designed the common areas, spa and 115 rooms of the very prestigious Baccarat hotel, paying homage to the alchemy of making crystal, the extraordinary shimmer of light, emphasizing 18th-century design influences, and bringing out the energy of New York.
